Welcome to Uptown Waterloo!

Established in 1972, the Uptown Waterloo Business Improvement Area (BIA) turned 50 this year, making us the second oldest BIA in the world! But, what is a BIA anyway?

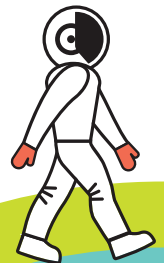

The concept of BIAs originated in 1970 when a group of business owners from Toronto were concerned about the decline of main streets caused by the growing popularity of shopping malls. Today, thousands of BIAs around the world pool resources from their members to promote, beautify and physically improve their districts. BIAs also advocate with various organizations and levels of government to ensure that these investments benefit local businesses and neighbourhoods. In short, BIAs create thriving, vibrant and welcoming spaces for all!

The Uptown BIA has numerous initiatives to celebrate our 50th Anniversary, some of which include featuring the stories of business owners, a photo contest, limited edition posters, pins, patches and much more! Find out more by scanning the QR code below.
